Recreational Fishing for Red Snapper in the Gulf of Mexico, Moving Forward

What:

NOAA Fisheries Southeast Regional Administrator, Roy Crabtree is hosting a teleconference on Thursday, July 11 to discuss various topics relating to Gulf of Mexico red snapper.

The discussion will focus on the recent population assessment, future catch levels, regional management and how you can get involved in the process prior to or during the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council meeting set to take place July 17 in New Orleans, LA.

When:

Thursday, July 11 from 12pm - 2pm EST

Where: Dial 1-800-857-5151 and use the password:

RED SNAPPER

Why: We want to have an informal conversation, answer your questions about management options and hear your thoughts about ways to better stabilize the recreational fishery in the future.
